

DOW DIDN'T DISAPPOINT YOU

And he never will. When we tell you there is not, in this western country, a store as big or a stock as complete, we mean it. And when we ask you to come and see all this for yourself, we will not disappoint you.

Winter Suits, Overcoats, Fur Coats, Underwear, Caps, Gloves, Etc., till you can't rest. A hundred tables, each bearing a multitude of new goods.

Overcoats. Now don't wait till the mercury tumbles down to zero to pick out that overcoat. A doctor's bill may be the penalty. The choice is innumerable and the price is astonishingly low.

Fur Coats. Throw pride to the winds. KEEP WARM is the best and most sensible advice we can give you. We never had such a stock of fur coats, and not an old garment in the bunch; all admirably made and selling at from $10.00 to $35.00. Come in and see them.

Winter Underwear. "A stitch in time saves nine." One of our $1.00 suits of warm fleeced underwear will save "stitches" in the back, and is a long way cheaper than doctor's bills. Send your money to us when you want underwear. If we don't send you what you want or full value, ship it back and get your money.

Good Warm Underwear from fifty cents to Five Dollars a Suit.

Kelley Files a Contest.

Alleging that Sides was Unlawfully Elected Sheriff.

W. E. Kelley has filed papers in County Court, praying for a recount of the ballots cast at the recent election, alleging that the election boards in several precincts counted votes for Sides which should not have been counted for either candidate, as the crosses were in the square at the end of the blank line left for writing the names.

He charges that in Covington precinct Sides furnished John Peysen with a large sum of money for the purpose of furthering Sides' election; that Sides gave Wm. Salubury, L. Hawkins and Wm. Hawkins intoxicating drinks for voting for him; that in Covington precinct 12 votes were cast in the blank line and counted for Sides.

That in Omaha precinct 12 votes cast in the blank line were counted for Sides and 10 ballots marked for Kelly were counted for Sides.

That in St. Johns 15 ballots cast for Kelly were counted for Sides and 8 ballots were cast blank and counted for Sides.

That in Summit 10 ballots on the blank line were counted for Sides.

That in Hubbard 4 votes were cast for Sides by illegal voters.

That in Pigeon Creek 5 votes were cast by illegal voters for Sides.

That an honest count of the ballots cast will show that W. E. Kelley was fairly elected sheriff of Dakota county.

Judge Ryan issued a summons for Sides to appear on or before December 27, when a recount will be had.

It is not known whether the recount will include the other offices or not.

The petition simply prays for a recount on the office of Sheriff.

Wants Her Child.

Mrs. Clara Farel Sues for Possession of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Clara Farel of Duluth, Minn., has sued in the District court for possession of her 13-year-old daughter, Bertha Ludwig. When Mrs. Farel's former husband died in 1888, she gave the child, then two years old, into the possession of John Silbrance. Papers were drawn up for filing to that effect, but E. B. Wilbur, then county judge, neglected to file same, claiming the costs were not paid. Silbrance died and his widow married a man named Booher. They reside in Thurston county. Mrs. Farel has been married twice since the girl's father died, and being now in comfortable circumstances, wants her child. She claims she was mentally unbalanced when she gave the child to Silbrance.

About twenty witnesses were in attendance on the case from Sioux City, South Sioux City and Pender. The child, as we understand it, prefers to remain with her foster parents, Day & Whitcomb are attorneys for plaintiff and Jay & Beck for defendant. Judge Evans will announce his decision today.

Sold Out and Skipped.

W. H. Smiley of Emerson Gets Into Deep Water Financially.

News came last Friday that W. H. Smiley, doing a general mercantile business at Emerson, had sold his stock to Sherbaker & Co. of Creston, Neb., and left for parts unknown. His stock of goods were immediately attached by Omaha and Sioux City wholesale houses who had accounts against him aggregating $3000 or over. Sheriff Smith has been in possession of the stock all week. Smiley's wife is still in Emerson and is prostrated by the affair.

Smiley and wife deeded the building to his father for $500.00. No knowledge of his whereabouts has been ascertained.

The Herald and the Cincinnati Inquirer—one for local and county news, the other for general news—both large papers—all for $2.00 per year in advance.

There is no true criterion as to the value of a newspaper. It is the news and the news that counts.

M. O. Ayres, Mrs. M. C. Jay, Mrs. M. A. Schmidt and Miss Marion Ayres were over to the Corn Palace yesterday. They went on a pleasure trip and of course they had a royal good time.

The Omaha World-Herald is great as a daily paper, and it is also great as a weekly paper. Its weekly issue, which is in fact a semi-weekly, because it is published twice a week so as to give subscribers the news more frequently, contains all the news of the day, besides a large amount of miscellaneous, agricultural department, and quite elaborate reports on the stock and grain market.

The HERALD is for the masses. If you have an item of news come in and tell us about it. We don't mean to slight any one, but unless you tell us what you know, some good news items will get away from us.

From and after this issue all receiving the HERALD will be regarded as regular subscribers and will be expected to pay for the same. If you don't want to pay for the paper, hand it back to the postmaster and there will be no hard feelings. Be sure you have paid back dues, however.

A HOSS TRADE.—Nitt—W. C. Smith and J. W. Reader of Jackson recently tried to swap horses. Smith took his horse to Reader's place and wanted to swap, but Reader said Smith's animal looked sick and did not want to trade. Smith left the horse there and he died, and Smith sued Reader for the horse he swapped for. Judge Ryan declared no trade had been made and called the deal off.

After Evil-Minded Persons.

It has come to my knowledge that certain evil-minded persons are circulating reports about meats kept for sale at my shop in Dakota City, one of which was that meat was sold over the counter from a cow that had choked to death. I will pay five dollars to any one who will furnish me the testimony that will lead to the conviction of any person or persons circulating such an unfounded report.

$100 and Costs

Is What Judge Ryan Assessed John Peysen Last Saturday.

The case of State vs John Peysen was tried before County Judge Ryan Saturday. M. C. Jay conducted the prosecution, County Attorney Warner declining to do so, and J. J. McCarthy of Ponca handled the defense. A large number of witnesses were examined on both sides. The principal effort of the defense was to prove that the section of the statute under which the charge was drawn, said the defendant must sell "malt, spirituous and vinous liquors," the "AND" being inserted instead of "or." As Peysen was only charged with selling one kind of liquor, they contended he should be freed. At the conclusion of the case Judge Ryan found Peysen $100 and costs, which must amount to nearly $100 more. Peysen has appealed the case to the district court. Ed Easton signing his bond. This breaks Peysen's record of being acquitted on criminal charges.

Say Hill is Back of it.

Omaha & Northern Road Representatives Expect Him to Become Head and Front of Enterprise.

The rumor that James J. Hill would take control of the Omaha & Northern, the road which is projected to be built next year from Omaha to Sioux City over an air-line route sixteen miles shorter than the present routes has again been revived. The fact that the bonds of the combination bridge company at Sioux City are being quietly bought at 80 cents has led to the idea that he is deeply concerned in the new road. The increased demand for the bonds is taken to mean that next year there will be increased traffic across the bridge and this can only be explained by the prospects of the successful outcome of the Omaha & Northern's plans.

That James J. Hill has considered the advisability of assuming control of the road does not lack confirmation. A local representative of the Omaha & Northern, when questioned concerning the matter yesterday, said that at the time the directors were elected it was stated that Hill intended to interest himself in the road and it was not doubted that if he did decide to interest himself he would become the head and front of the enterprise.

A LAW SUIT.—Joseph Greenwood of Goodwin sued Frank and Bert Reed in county court this week for $86.50 rent on land and articles borrowed and not returned. The defendants agreed to settle for $51.80 and costs, but plaintiff demurred, and Judge Ryan allowed him $57.50.
